

Behind the scenes of your REALTOR®'S commission

Finding your dream home or selling one is not a simple feat. It takes a lot of time searching, networking, contract writing, compliance, negotiating, advocating, communication, & checking all the small details - making a transaction smooth for the client.

Many hours of education!

To be licensed we are required to have 90+ class hours and 24+ hours every 2 years.

Hours dedicated to learning the law where it pertains and legally licensed to draft contracts.

Marketing, searching, networking, meetings, broker tours, community events, the list goes on!

We keep up with the market, community and marketing so you don't have to.

Agents never work alone, they are backed by a team and each person will take a piece of the puzzle - the broker, referrals, trainers, etc. all take a split - your agent does not keep the percentage you are seeing; it is broken out to multiple people that are there to make the client successful.

We put ourselves on the line and follow safety measures. Walking into homes can be risky. We are held liable of the home during showings.
